I hope my dad to be parent of the year because my dad buys me a lot of stuff. Also he is super cool. Last of all he plays with me.

The first reason I like to talk about is he buys me stuff. Like video games, that aren't bad like New Super Mario Wii, Smash bro, stuff like that. Also candy like hersy chocolate, lollypops, hersy, m&ms. Also books about my favorite space, black holes, worm holes, stars, and more. Best of all Legos he buys a lot of legos, a lot. I really like Legos I love playing with it. It really fun. I hope you know why he buys me stuff,

The best second reason is I know my dad is cool, he's really funny he make me laugh even my friends. Also he helps me a lot sometimes with my project he helped me get a 100's. If I have a test coming up he asks me questions so I can remember the meaning of the words. Lastly he jokes around with me a lot once I got home he was hiding

Somewhere and then pool he came it was funny you should of been there, he always tricks me,

Now, last of all or best of all he plays with me, he play basketball with me but he always wins but once I almost made it a tie with a 3er but I missed by a in. Close game 42-39.
But in tennis I rock sometimes. Some days me and my friends verses my dad and my friends dads We lost I don't know the score but I knew I lost. Soccer is my best sport I make goals all the time in travel soccer but with my dad it's a hard game, he always wins or loses it fun with my dad.

I hope you know why I think my dad should be parent of the year, because he buys stuff and he is cool, last he plays with me.
